| Why? | We collect, receive, use and share identifiable information ("personal information") about physicians, pharmacists, investigators, researchers and other health care professionals in accordance with and as permitted by applicable laws, and, where applicable, as authorized by applicable government authorities, in connection with our everyday business operations, which may include:

- clinical, epidemiology and outcomes research study management
- adverse experience and product complaint reporting
- patient assistance, prescription discount and reimbursement support programs
- communicating information about our products through our professional representatives, our web sites, via e-mail, call centers, postal mail and other channels, including promotional and other marketing communications
- symposia, conferences and other scientific and educational programs
- requests for product samples and orders for our products, where permitted by law
- financial disclosure reporting
- business research and marketing research
- auditing our programs and resources for compliance and security purposes
- identifying and engaging scientific experts and leaders
- providing access to our resources and keeping track of our interactions with you both offline and online (our online practices are governed by our Internet Privacy Policy)
- tracking payments made to health care professionals for services performed on behalf of our Company
- development of sales and marketing programs
- delivery of programs and materials to your patients
- determining the appropriateness, given the requirements of laws applicable to our business, of engaging health care professionals for certain of the business purposes described above
- as required or expressly authorized by laws applicable to our business globally

Depending on the location in which you live, local laws may require that you provide specific consent for the collection, use and disclosure of personal information for some of these programs. Where required, you may be asked to provide your consent by filling out a paper form, an online form, in a telephone discussion, by a text message or by other appropriate and permitted means. Except where we are required by law or |
